

BEEF & OYSTER HOUSE

143 Washington Street, Salem, Massachusetts 774-4328

THE BEEF & OYSTER HOUSE was built in the early 1800's as a commercial structure housing many small, thriving businesses in the downtown section of Olde Salem.

In 1840, the Salem Athenaeum (library), contracted rooms to be fitted for a library. Salem's famous author, NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE, frequently visited these rooms, and it is here that he researched material for his famous novels, "The House of Seven Gables" and "The Scarlet Letter."

It is within these very same chambers, some 140 years later, that we feel Nathan's spirit guiding us along in the tradition of Olde New England, to bring you, with all its historic value and charm, the finest, most luxurious restaurant in the entire Boston area.
