Hello!

Your Christmas card really had a journey before it reached me didn't it? At least it was a little novelty getting a card months after the season is over. Being so solitary, it had an originality of its own.

Bette Tetreau keeps me pretty well posted on current collegiate affairs – but the names are all so unfamiliar to me.

George Freeman is now in Florida after a couple on months at Harvard. He expects active duty soon. He never mentions in activity in the Pacific with the Seabees, and that is not like him!

The room below yours will keep your students awake just in case you are tossing the Missouri Compromise or something, equally stimulating-about.

It is spring like here – with fields of yellow daffodils popping out of the green green fields. The grass has been green all winter – a green that is wholly unlike that of our lawns.

Mail me!!

Have better luck with your next
